

An architectural sketch of a traditional Japanese building, possibly a gate or a small shrine, with a thatched roof and a small staircase. The building is surrounded by stylized trees with large, rounded canopies. A simple fence runs across the foreground. The drawing is done in a loose, sketchy style with cross-hatching for shading.

[illegible]